Cleveland Must Go Up.

"Cleveland is again at a cross roads. Cleveland must break through. Cleveland must win the State election." With these words, Mayor Harold H. Burton addressed the Cleveland News Association through the Cleveland Press. The meeting consisted of all the leading newspapers of the city, and was held in the Press building. Mayor Burton said that it is the duty of every newspaper to help elect Harold H. Burton as Mayor of Cleveland.

The News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Washington

Washington, D.C., November 21, 1936

The Washington Department of Agriculture was directed by the President to prepare a report on the conditions of the agricultural situation in the United States. The report was comprehensive and included data on the production of various crops and livestock, as well as information on the marketing of agricultural commodities.

Overdue Economy

There was a feeling of optimism in the business community that the overdue economy would bring about a recovery in the economy. The Federal Reserve Board had been calling for a reduction in the discount rate, and the Treasury Department had been increasing the amount of gold in the Treasury.

The economy began to improve in the spring of 1937, and the unemployment rate began to decrease. The agricultural situation improved as well, with increased demand for agricultural commodities.

By ROYAL H. GOLDFIELD

Daily Record

Cleveland, Ohio, November 22, 1936

The Cleveland Plain Dealer has made a strong effort to improve its circulation in the past year. The newspaper has been trying to attract more readers by increasing the number of columns and pages, and by improving the quality of its reporting.

Is Your Question Answered?

The Plain Dealer has been receiving a lot of letters asking for help with various problems. The newspaper has been trying to provide answers to these questions in a timely manner. Some of the common questions include how to improve a business, how to deal with a personal problem, and how to handle a legal issue.

An Outdoors Diary

November 22, 1936

The weather was fine today, with clear skies and a gentle breeze. The hills were covered in a layer of snow, and the trees were adorned with glistening icicles. The scenery was breathtaking, and the outdoor enthusiasts were out in full force, enjoying the beauty of nature.

Cleveland Must Go Up.

"Cleveland is again at a cross roads. Cleveland must break through. Cleveland must win the State election." With these words, Mayor Harold H. Burton addressed the Cleveland News Association through the Cleveland Press. The meeting consisted of all the leading newspapers of the city, and was held in the Press building. Mayor Burton said that it is the duty of every newspaper to help elect Harold H. Burton as Mayor of Cleveland.

The News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Washington

Washington, D.C., November 21, 1936

The Washington Department of Agriculture was directed by the President to prepare a report on the conditions of the agricultural situation in the United States. The report was comprehensive and included data on the production of various crops and livestock, as well as information on the marketing of agricultural commodities.

Overdue Economy

There was a feeling of optimism in the business community that the overdue economy would bring about a recovery in the economy. The Federal Reserve Board had been calling for a reduction in the discount rate, and the Treasury Department had been increasing the amount of gold in the Treasury.

The economy began to improve in the spring of 1937, and the unemployment rate began to decrease. The agricultural situation improved as well, with increased demand for agricultural commodities.

By ROYAL H. GOLDFIELD

Daily Record

Cleveland, Ohio, November 22, 1936

The Cleveland Plain Dealer has made a strong effort to improve its circulation in the past year. The newspaper has been trying to attract more readers by increasing the number of columns and pages, and by improving the quality of its reporting.

Is Your Question Answered?

The Plain Dealer has been receiving a lot of letters asking for help with various problems. The newspaper has been trying to provide answers to these questions in a timely manner. Some of the common questions include how to improve a business, how to deal with a personal problem, and how to handle a legal issue.

An Outdoors Diary

November 22, 1936

The weather was fine today, with clear skies and a gentle breeze. The hills were covered in a layer of snow, and the trees were adorned with glistening icicles. The scenery was breathtaking, and the outdoor enthusiasts were out in full force, enjoying the beauty of nature.