

FREE PUBLIC POLICY FORUM

THE ELECTION FOR MAYOR: A discussion about the future of Cleveland

WHEN: Tuesday, August 29, 2017
7-8:30 pm

COST: Free & Open to the Public

WHERE: Tinkham Veale University Center
11038 Bellflower Rd, CWRU Campus
Cleveland, OH 44106

MODERATOR: Leila Atassi
Reporter, The Plain Dealer

PANELISTS: Tom Beres
Reporter, WKYC-TV (retired)

James L. Hardiman
Civil Rights Attorney; First Vice President,
NAACP Cleveland Chapter

Chris Quinn
Editor & President, Advance Ohio

As Cleveland Mayor Frank Jackson seeks an unprecedented fourth four-year term, the 2017 mayoral race is shaping up to be a referendum on Jackson's 12 years in office. The next mayor of Cleveland will be determined based on how well Jackson addressed issues such as gun violence, police reform, lead poisoning, and blighted housing — and whether residents of the most depressed neighborhoods perceive City Hall to prioritize their needs over those of downtown developers. Where will Cleveland be in four years if Jackson wins re-election? How might the city fare under the tutelage of one of his challengers? Join us as we explore these questions and more.

Co-sponsored by the Case Western Reserve University Siegal Lifelong Learning Program, League of Women Voters of Greater Cleveland, and Cleveland.com

Corporate sponsor: First Interstate Properties, Ltd.

FOR MORE INFORMATION: teachingcleveland@earthlink.net